NSI Kite Padz designed by Hein

NSI's comprehensive line features three types of padz which accommodate all types of boards and riding styles. All padz have an inner layer of shock absorbing foam, memory foam arch support and a firm toe grip ridge. The plates are tough but flexible ABS to prevent alteration to board flex and eliminate stress caused by aluminum plates. The plate is much lighter than aluminum and easy to hand form to follow the contour of the deck. The plate is backed with foam to reduce board scratches.

HEIN PLATE STYLE PADZ

The "PLATE STYLE" foot bed has threaded inserts that accommodate any strap. The plate and strap then mount to the board with standard 7-8" bolt spacing common on most boards. This keeps the strap in proper alignment with the pad while making stance adjustments possible. Can easily be transferred to any board or removed when traveling. Weight 6 oz. each with NSI Ratchet Foot Strap. Straps sold separately.

Item Code: HPS MSR $93.95

Item Code: HP MSR $46.95

SANDWICH MOUNT FOOT BED

Designed so it can be mounted by sandwiching it between the footstrap and board. Slots allow foot strap screw spacing from 6.25" to 7.75" and movement for duck or regular stance. Weight 5 oz. each. Sizes: S/M/L/XL

Item Code: SMF MSR $73.95

Known worldwide for the quality and performance of their Padz deck pads since 1989, NSI offers cutting edge kite specific designs. Available in a variety of material patterns and colors.

NSI utilizes only the highest quality, durable and non-absorbent closed cell foam combined with the most aggressive 3M® Peel & Stick (PSA) backing. NSI Padz offer superior comfort, traction and shock absorption.

Single Density Padz are 1/4" thick. Dual Density Padz are 1/4" top layer, with an added 1/8" softer under layer.

The under layer adds additional shock absorption and helps to spread the load when you really huck it and come down from big air.

safety products

REEL LEASH® RETRACTABLE BOARD LEASH

If you're gonna use a board leash...this is the only choice!

The Reel Leash® has a lightweight plastic housing which contains a stainless steel spring and spool of webbing with a brass snap hook. Safer than traditional tubular leashes, because when separated from the board, the board will safely fall away from the kiter. This releases the webbing out 10', with enough torque from the spring system to control/eliminate slack and reduce the risk of the board sling shooting back toward the kiter.

Leash webbing stays coiled away in the housing and out of the way and won't drag in the water, wrap around the kiter or board, or get caught between toes or under the feet while moving around on the board. The 2" heavy duty loop of webbing attaches to any harness strap, eliminating then need for harness modification. Still the best alternative for a board leash. Both models allow for the user to reload a new leash strap into the unit if the original strap wears out.
